Some people have lots of reasons why they need to drive alone to work:

Top Five Excuses for Driving Alone to Work

5. My car needs the exercise.
4. I like contributing to the ozone layer.
3. My chiropractor says I need to be cramped behind a steering wheel by myself for at least 45 minutes each day.
2. I just love the reception on my car radio.
1. ~~I can't get a ride home quickly if I really need one.~~

Did you know that if you carpool, vanpool, bicycle, walk, or take the bus or light rail to work, you are GUARANTEED a ride home if you have an urgent or emergency situation?

It's true. If you don't drive alone to work at least 60 percent of the time, you may take a taxi or rent a car if you need to get home for the following reasons:

- An immediate family member has an emergency.
- A serious problem arises at your child's school or day care.
- Fire or burglary damages your home.
- You are sick and can't wait for your normal ride home.
- Your carpool or vanpool partner has an emergency and you have no way to get home.
- You have unscheduled, supervisor-approved overtime.
